GOVERNOR ODDIE HAS AN OPERATION FOR APPENDICITIS

SUCCESSFULLY UNDERGOES THE OPERATION FOR APPENDICITIS ON SUNDAY.

RENO, Nev., Sept. 5.—Governor T. L. Oddie, who was operated upon Sunday morning for appendicitis, is doing as well as could be expected. At noon today the bulletins report everything favorable for his speedy recovery. The operation was performed at the Sisters' hospital in Reno.

A bulletin was issued shortly after the operation by Dr. George McKenzie, the attending surgeon, stating that Governor Oddie had successfully passed through the surgical performance and was resting easily.

Owing to Governor Oddie being in fairly good health, it was thought that the operation would be mild in character, and the surprise proved true. Although he has suffered considerably from appendicitis, his condition did not demand an operation until about a month ago. At that time Governor Oddie visited San Francisco, but the press of state affairs necessitated his return to Carson.

The governor decided Saturday night that the operation should be performed without delay, as he feared that an attack would prevent his participation in the governor's conference to be held in New Jersey, which he expects to attend.

Bulletins concerning the operation and condition of Governor Oddie are being posted by the local papers here.

It is expected that Governor Oddie will remain a patient in the Sisters' hospital for at least two weeks before his physician will permit his removal to Carson City. During this time, Lieutenant Governor Gilbert C. Ross will act as governor.

MUST USE SHORTER PINS.

Women who have been in the habit of wearing big, long hatpins that are apt to put a person's eye out or gouge a piece out of some other portion of the anatomy, will have to forego the pleasure (?) of wearing these implements of war after the first of next January in the state of Nevada. A law was made at the last session of the legislature that after that date all hatpins must not be longer than to project over half an inch from the hat crown. If they are longer the points must be protected by a scabbard or some device. In view of the grotesque style of hats that women wear it would not be strange to see the dear creatures adopt the safety pin as a means of holding on their headgear.

HEAVIER RAILS ARE BEING LAID

WORK OF REPLACING LIGHT RAILS WITH 90-POUNDERS IS FINISHED.

While the eyes of the general public are directed to the work of double-tracking the Southern Pacific line through Nevada, another improvement is going on which in itself is just as radical as the proposed building of the second track. It is the substitution of 90-pound steel rails for the old 81-pound metals that have been in service for years.

At the present time there are two gangs of men, fifty in each crew, working at Moab and at Stone House, replacing the lighter rails with the heavier. The change means the practical rebuilding of the old line, with the exception of the grading. In the past three years all of the old ties have been replaced by new ones, new fishplates inserted and with the laying of 90-pound rails the roadbed will be practically new.

Trabmen say they can instantly tell when they strike the heavier steel. There is a feeling of greater solidity, as might well be with the addition of ten pounds of metal every yard.

The work is now going on between Winnemucca and Battle Mountain and the force of one hundred men is making rapid progress.

CARSON VALLEY HAY IS IN BIG DEMAND

Carson valley hay continues to be in heavy demand at Tonopah and Goldfield and is a favorite against the product of all competitive districts. For the past several weeks a string of cars have stood on the sidetrack at Minden every day to be loaded with hay for the southern camps. Eleven and 12 carloads usually make up each shipment. Carson valley hay has gained the enviable reputation of being superior to any product that can be secured.—Record.
